Public statement by Stanhope Reeve James Harrison

(Since last week's edition of The Express, Reeve Jim Harrison has come forward and pointed out some errors which were printed over the last several months. The following public statement summarizes what has happened to the Reeve and his council and it should also be pointed out at this time that contrary to popular belief, the entire council passed a by-law (79-14) June 6th, 1979, to dismiss Richard Kinsman with no nay votes recorded and not by a 3-2 vote as The Express was lead to believe.)

———o———

"Unjust treatment of Stanhope Fire Chief continues" is a headline which I find "UNJUST." Due to my position as Reeve of this Township, my wife and children have had to endure unjust treatment and threatening telephone calls which this paper and some of Stanhope's residents choose to ignore.

The article under the headline is completely misleading and lays the blame solely on the shoulders of the Reeve and possibly Councillor Woods.

It should be brought to the attention of Stanhope ratepayers that in October 1978 I came to the decision that Chief Richard Kinsman should be replaced. It took me several months to reach that decision and I still believe in that decision today.

However, on Wednesday, July 25th when the majority of council decided, after hearing the Fire Marshall's report, to reinstate Mr. Kinsman I was personally more than willing to abide by council's decision and the recommendations contained within the Fire Marshall's report.

In your paragraph where Mr. Kinsman states he was unable to contact his men on such short notice, the majority of council felt extra time was not justified for a meeting with "his" men for two reasons: — 1. Council was requesting Mr. Kinsman to accept or reject the offer; — 2. All 20 men may or may not have been serving under Mr. Kinsman if he had accepted.

Mr. Kinsman was to have his reply to council by 5 pm. Thursday, July 26th. In a telephone conversation with Mr. Vine on Wednesday evening, Mr. Kinsman agreed to this 5 pm. deadline.

My wife answered the telephone at approximately five minutes past five o'clock on July 26th and Mr. Kinsman asked to speak with me, but I was not home from work at the time.

Immediately upon coming in from work I called Mr. Kinsman and he asked for more time and a meeting with council. I did not promise Mr. Kinsman either of his requests; I did say I would contact the other council members and get back to him as soon as possible. Mr. Kinsman was aware of this as he stated to the Times "he (the Reeve) would try to arrange a meeting."

One should remember that at this time the whole situation had been turned over to the Fire Marshal's Office who are to work in close liaison with the council. Therefore, I felt Mr. Vine of the Fire Marshal's Office should be made aware that Mr. Kinsman had requested more time and a meeting with council.

When Mr. Vine was contacted by myself he recommended that Mr. Kinsman be told he had missed his five o'clock deadline and therefore council must advertise for a Chief and Mr. Kinsman could apply for the position if he so desired.

I personally telephoned Mr. Kinsman back as I had promised and his wife informed me that he was unable to come to the telephone. As I had another meeting to attend that same evening I told Mrs. Kinsman exactly what had taken place and Mr. Vine's recommendations.

Since I have been elected Reeve of this Township I have always acted only with a majority vote of my council. My wife and children have suffered enough during the past two months and since my children are certainly old enough to read the newspapers I would appreciate complete and responsible reporting.

James Harrison, Reeve

Students recreate English tourist attraction for County on Canada Works grant

HALIBURTON — Three energetic young Haliburton Highlands Senior Secondary school students have received a grant from Young Canada Works for $4,374.00, for work on a project known as "Haliburton Stonehenge." The project, in model form, is shown above, with the three students, left to right, Michael Wright, Jackie Cox and Roger Hicks standing over it. The three, have been working closely with history teacher, Frank Wallace and the Young Canada Works branch for almost a month now, and the model project and the theory behind the project is nearing completion.

Stonehenge is an ancient monument on the Salisbury Plain in Wiltshire, England. It is a group of huge, rough cut stones.. No one knows exactly who placed them there however.

In 1950, archaeologists from Edinburg University discovered two underground holes which probably served as ritual pits. They sent charcoal from one of the pits to the University of Chicago for analysis by the radioactive-carbon method. The charcoal was found to date from 1848 BC plus or minus 275 years. Carvings found on the stones in 1953 also indicate that the stones may be more than 3500 years old. Some stones are of a kind found only in Wales, about 300 miles away. They were probably carried to the site.

Haliburton Stonehenge, is a feasibility study being done by the students. They are using the grant to build a scale model of the Stonehenge (the scale is 1/50th of actual size).

The model is not an exact replica of the Stonehenge in England, but is close. For instance, in the actual Stonehenge, there were five Trilithons (centre structures) due to the major sunrises and sunsets. However, here, because of the different latitude they only required four trilithons. (See photos).

The students came up with this project last winter, when Dysart et al Township put on a contest for ideas to draw tourists to Haliburton. Stonehenge in England draws between one and half to two million visitors a year. Thus, the students hope, with the study, and, after a hopefully sponsored trip to Stonehenge in England, erect to scale a "Stonehenge Haliburton," possibly in Glebe Park. The project will be a costly one and therefore they plan a survey of the resident of Hailburton within the next week or so, to get their views on this project.

They hope to get a trip to England because of all the conflicting data they have received to date on the actual size of Stonehenge. They know that each stone in the Sarsen circle weighs about 20 tons and that the trilithons in the centre are twice that weigh. The conflicting information appears to be the actual size of the circle.

Artists drawing of what Stoneheng may have looked like

Over the past hundreds of years the stones at Stonehenge have gradually feil, or people have carried them away to make bridges and mill dams. But from the positions of many of the stones still in place, scholars can guess what the monument looked like originally.

An earth wall about 320 feet in diameter surrounded the monument. Thirty blocks of grey sandstone, each standing about 13½ feet above ground and averaging 28 tons, stood in a circle (sarsen) about 97 feet in diameter. A continouus circle of smaller blocks stood on top of them (ten tons each). Inside was a circle of about 60 blue stones. Inside this circle were two horseshoe-shaped sets of stones, one inside the other, opening toward the northeast. Near the centre curve of the inner horseshoe was a flat sandstone block 16 feet long. This was probably an alter, and may have stood upright.

A stone marker 80 yards (Heel stone) east of the alter was set to cast a shadow on it at dawn of the summer solstice, about June 21. For this reason, some scholars say that Stonehenge was connected with sunworship. (See diagram of artists conception)

As you can see Stonehenge was a very important part of history and it certainly would make an interesting touris attraction here in the County?

The speed of sound is generally placed at 1,008 feet per second at sea level at 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

Master plan is approved for Lake Superior Park

The master plan for Lake Superior Provincial Park has been approved and will be released later this summer, Natural Resources Minister James A. C. Auld announced today. A review of public response to a preliminary plan will be available later this month.

The 1,555-square kilometre (601-square mile) park is situated on the eastern shore of Lake Superior.

"Under the provisions of the master plan," Mr. Auld said, "Lake Superior will continue to be classified as a natural environment park with major emphasis on protecting significant natural, cultural and historical features; providing facilities for low-intensity camping and providing opportunities for back-country travel.

The park boundaries will be expanded to include a portion of Peever Township around MacGregor Cove, the waters of Sand Lake and a few other smaller areas. The park will not be extended northward in Rabazo Township to the Michipicoten River.

Commercial timber harvesting in conjunction with low intensity recreational activities will be permitted in approximately 50 per cent of the park area.

"The Lake Superior Provincial Park master plan recognizes and establishes a realistic balance among the objectives of recreation, protection, tourism, heritage appreciation and resource production," the minister said.

Canadian Comment

BY PETER WARD

GENOA, Italy (SF) - At several smaller ports south of here on the Italian Riviera, warships are growing on the building ways almost like mushrooms in an Alpine valley. The Italians have a naval building boom of modest proprtions.

Ships are being constructed for the Italian navy, and also for the Venezuelan navy, the Ecuadorian navy, the Peruvian navy and the Libyan navy. There's more than two billion dollars worth of work for export taking place in the shipyards ad supporting weapons companies.

The Italians want to bring Canada into the lists of their customers. A consortium of Italian shipbuilding and weapons companies has combined with Davies Shipbuilding in Quebec to bid for the construction of six new warships planned for the Canadian Navy. The price ceiling set by Ottawa is $1.578 billion dollars, and a team of military-civil service experts is presently evaluating the five bids.

Should the Italian-Davies bid win, the ships would be built in Canada, to Italian design and with Italian weapons systems. It would mean perhaps half of the total price would be spent with Canadian industry, and that's not much when you consider the percentages involved in other recent defence purchases.

Thre are dangers, however, in once again involving Canada with U.S. technology for construction of our new warships, because that is the route which in the past has contributed to a downward slide in the technological abilities of Canadian industry.

Defence purchases are the biggest made by government from industry, and if Canada seeks to build a new industrial base, as the Clark government claims, we must be ready to use defence contracts to that end.

That means that when we buy new ships, we should be looking for innovative industrial techniques which will have spin-off benefits in civilian commercial areas, as well as effective weaponry.

The techniques being used by the Italians to produce electronics, hulls, propulsion units, and radars are more advanced than anything now being done in Canadian industry, and on a three-week tour of the involved companies here, I ran into several pledges to establish Canadian plants if the warship contract went to the Italian-Davies consortium.

Plan for the future. It gives you something to do until the inevitable happens.

West Guilford Flea Market was a huge success

WEST GUILFORD — The recreation committee held a three-day Flea Market here at the community centre last weekend and it was a fantastic success. MPP John Eakins cut the ribbon, opening the market and the Haliburton Pipe Band led by Earl Cooper were also on hand for the occasion. Friday evening alone the market sold over $1000 worth of goods and the committee reports a gross sales of close to $1900, which go towards improvements to the centre. Winner of the quilt was Eldon Sibley of Tory Hill. The committee wish to thank everyone involved for their help at the three day event. Top photo was taken on Saturday morning and shows some early shoppers taking advantage of some great buys. Ontario announces updated equalization factors

TORONTO. . .Revenue Minister Lorne Maeck announced to-day that the government of Ontario has published new 1979 assessment equalization factors in the July 14th edition of the Ontario Gazette. These factors and the equalized assessments on which they are based, will enable a more equitable distribution of Provincial grants to municipalities and school boards in 1980. The factors also form a basis for apportioning shared costs among municipalities for municipal and education purposes.

The new factors are based on 1978 market value. Previously, equalization factors had been frozen at 1970 levels. From now on equalization factors will be kept current by means of annual revision.

The new equalization procedure, based on current property assessment data, compensates for differences in assessment levels that exist among municipalities.

Mr. Maeck reiterated the commitment he made to municipalities in his statement to the Legislature on November 21st, 1978. "Even though the use of the new factors will cause a redistribution of grants among municipalities and school boards — I wish to state emphatically that no municipality or school board will receive less grant in 1980 because of the introduction of new factors."

Mr. Maeck also stated on November 21 that. "The factors will also be available for county, regional and school officials to use in the calculation of shared cost apportionments in 1980. In this particular instance provision will be made for phasing in burdensome changes."

The factors, and the data used to calculate them, have been made available to the Ministries of Education, Treasury and Intergovernmental Affairs, so that officials in those Ministries can evaluate the impact of the new factors on grant programmes and apportionmen procedures.

These studies will not be complete until the early fall and it may be that some municipalities which are due to receive larger grants because of the factors will not obtain the full benefit of the new grants in 1980. It may also be necessary to phase in changes in apportionment that would result from a strict application of the apportionment procedures used by school boards, regional governments, counties, district welfare boards and district homes for the aged.

"When the studies are completed, government policy will be announced by the Ministers concerned," Mr. Maeck noted.

"We wish to co-operate with municipalities as much as possible in developing a detailed awareness of how the factors were determined. One step in this direction is that we are announcing the equalization factors that apply to each municipality a year in advance so that there is ample time for review by local representatives with my staff," Mr. Maeck stated. "A series of meetings with municipal officials will be organized so that my officials can explain the methodology used to calculate the factors.

"We want to give county, regional and school officials sufficient lead time to assess the impact of the new figures. Any municipality still not satisfied with its factor after consultation with assessment officials has until November 1 to apply to the Ontario Municipal Board for review.

"The explanations of how the factors will be used in the calculation of grants and apportionments will be made by officials of the Ministries concerned after Government policy is announced," Mr. Maeck stated.

Copies of the July 14, 1979 Ontario Gazette have been sent to every Head of Council and the chairmen of all School Boards.

"We trust that these measures will go a long way toward creating a fairer overall grant and apportionment procedure for all municipalities across the Province," Mr. Maeck concluded.

JOHN DEERE SPONSOR HAFLINGER PONY HITCH — Farmers with a taste for nostalgia and an eye for beauty will be able to see this six pony Haflinger hitch at the Haliburton County Fair this weekend. E. W. Stahl, president of John Deere, said "these rare and beautiful ponies were the highlights of many parades last year and we consider it a privilege to introduce them again this year." The ponies are owned and driven by Alvin Laramie, of Harrow, Ont. who has been breeding and showing prize winning horses for more than 50 years. It is the only one of its kind in Canada.

I view things in the big picture — you're too scatterbrained to tend to details.

Platinum metals study released by minister

The first comprehensive review of the platinum group metals world supply and demand and Ontario's mine production was released today by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The study, "Platinum Group Metals – Ontario and the World," brings to nine the number of policy background and research papers produced by the ministry's mineral resources branch.

Ontario is the world's third largest mine producer of the platinum group metals. Total sales of refined platinum group metals from the province's mines approximate $60 million annually.

Among other things, the report outlines the pros and cons of establishing a refinery to process platinum group metals from the province's mines and to recycle platinum metals from the exhaust systems of scrapped metals.

Natural Resources Minister James A. C. Auld said the report suggests it may eventually prove desirable and profitable to build a platinum metal refinery in Ontario.

Mr. Auld said one of the most interesting parts of the report is a description of the many glamorous and fascinating end uses of platinum group metals.

"The list of uses is a long one," the minister said. For instance, the metals are used in jewelry, jet engines, surgery, heart pacemakers, and in drugs to cure certain cancers."

He said platinum is also used in purifying automobile exhausts, as a pain killer, in television glass, in making fibreglass and rayon, in preserving food, in producing orchids, in making very powerful magnets for artificial eyes and teeth and in producing electricity from fuel cells without pollution or noise.

Some other uses: the refining of gasoline, the production of artificial fertilizers, and in laser beam production.

"Platinum Group Metals Ontario and the World," is available at the Ontario Government Bookstore, 880 Bay Street, Toronto, or the Public Service Centre, Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, 99 Wellesley Street West, Toronto.

The report is available for $25 a copy. Cheques or money orders should be made out to the Treasurer of Ontario.

$40,000 worth of beer spilt north of Harcourt, truck rolls

HARCOURT — About 1800 bottles of Molson's beer poured into a ditch last week when a semi-trailer truck was involved in a single vehicle accident on highway 648.

According to Minden OPP the tractor-trailer was eastbound and rounded a curve when the right front tire blew, sending the truck out of control. It crossed into the north ditch and tipped onto its side. Driver, Ralph Fricker 38, of Barrie sustained minor injuries in the mishap and the estimated loss in the accident is $40,000. PC R. Eveligh.

Ask Alma

Dear Alma:

I had an argument with my sister-in-law because I refused to waste a dollar on a chain letter she mailed me. I hate chain letters and finally decided to write to you instead. Hope you will answer this and explain to my sister-in-law that no one ever benefited from chain letters. She doesn't believe me. — L.S.

Dear A.L.S.:

I refuse to be a member of the chain gang, too. And, I'll tell you who else frowns on chain letters: the U.S. Postal Service. Chain letters involving money are illegal.

If your sister-in-law doesn't believe me, tell her to send one to the Postmaster General with her return address (including ZIP) and she will get an answer. It might be in the form of a summons, because the Postal Service does prosecute.

Dear Alma:

I have an attractive friend who is a toucher. She can't talk to a man without rubbing his chest, feeling his arms, patting his face, etc., and always greets him and says goodbye with a hug and kiss. The problem is that my husband is one of the men she does it to and I see red when she's around. Should I say something to her, to him or to no one? — Needing Advice

Dear N.A.:

I think the color you see is green, my dear. You're reacting as if hubby were a possession of yours and your friend was a known thief. Don't say anything. If she does it to all the men, she's probably harmless. Don't give her any ideas.

MP Bill Scott loses longtime executive assistant

Victoria-Haliburton MP William Scott is losing his executive assistant after an associaton of some seven years dating back to the 1972 election.

Russell Wunker of Miner's Bay is leaving his position with Mr. Scott to take on another as special assistant to Jake Epp, Minister of Indian and Northern Affairs and his duties commenced August 1st.

Although Mr. Wunker is leaving the employ of Mr. Scott, he will not be far away, just across the hall as a matter of fact, and he said last week he would still retain an active interest in riding affairs and be of whatever assistance time permits to Mr. Scott's offce. "I am going to continue to help out the people of the riding in anyway my services may be required," he declared.

Mr. Wunker is going to continue as co-chairman of the riding's election steering committee which is continuing to function in view of the fact that the PCs are operating as a minority government and could face another election in a relatively short time.

STANHOPE NOTES

by A. F. Stevenson

The importance of giving accurate instructions as to the location of a fire, when calling in a fire alarm, became apparent to the writer on a recent Sunday while visiting a member of the department.

A call was received stating that there was a fire at Vankoughnet Road and the Buckslide Road and volunteers and fire fighting vehicles converged at that point in a very few minutes.

Finding no fire or sign of one, some of the members in their private vehicles scoured surrounding roads without success and taking some time. Finally by means of CB and telephone, better instructions were obtained and after some further search the fire was located some considerable distance east and north of the point first given.

It turned out to be a person burning brush which was well controlled though not too wisely timed. For some time the department has endeavoured to make the public aware of the need to give proper directions when giving warning of a fire, and then it is very helpful to have someone at the location given to enable the men to quickly get to the point of the fire. Too often the men and equipment get to the area but find there are numerous roads or drive ways into bush concealed areas and no one to say which is the one to follow. In short if you have occasion to report a fire make the instructions accurate then if at all possible have someone meet the equipment to advise them as to the best road in to the fire.

The nets for the tennis courts will be in place by the time this appears and the courts will be available for use during daylight hours from 9 am with the only restrictions being that soft soled shoes must be worn and games limited to 30 minutes when others are waiting to get their turn on the courts.

We had recently stated that the recreation committee would call a meeting of those interested in forming a tennis club, but it has been decided not to do so at this time but to leave the initiative to those desiring to have a club.

The horseshoe pitching courts will be installed soon and it is the hope of the committee that those interested will make use of them. Entries for the horseshoe tournament to be held on August 18th must be made between 9 and 10 am and the fee is $1.00. Pairs will be drawn at that time, and cash prizes will be made to those qualifying in the tournament. Roads Superintendent Marvin Brown together with Gerald Bain, Township Clerk are handling details of the horseshoe tourney. For information call the Township office at 489-2379.

Volunteer workers will be out at the community centre grounds on the evening of August 15 and August 17 to get things ready for the events on the 18th and Marvin is going to be on hand to provide some useful direction.

Our Township seems to be blessed with a staff of permanent employees who are quite resourceful and capable of giving valuable help and advice when it is needed.

The swimming proram in Stanhope in the month of July was productive and under the supervision of Marilyn Kinsman, 48 enrolled and of those 47 achieved their passing standards and four are taking exams for their bronze.

Parents are reminded that the childrens theatre on Aug. 18 begins at 11 am so bring the children on time — it is free, and while they enjoy their show you can take in the arts show, the craft show or watch the softball game, the horseshoe pitching or a tennis demonstration — and don't forget there is the beef barbecue to be followed by the opening ceremonies then the bake sale and the dog show with the trained OPP dog.

2 Scarborough men charged in White Lake breakins

WHITE LAKE — Around 1 pm on Wednesday, Aug. 1st, two Scarborough men broke into a cottage on the White Lake Road and made off with stolen property valued at $1500. Spirit of Hope is a rescue bus

HALIBURTON — A 60 passenger school bus donated by Travelways to the local ambulance service has been transformed into a rescue vehicle. It has five stretcher bases, space for eight sitting patients-, materials and heavy rescue equipment.

Named the "'Spirt of Hope" by the two ambulance staff and nine volunteers who run the service the title is a reflection of their enthusiasm.

The Kinsmen Club of Haliburton have donated about $1200 in jacks and equipment. Dysart et al supplied chains and spares and the Atkinson Foundation came through with a $2600 infant transporter. Dysart et al clerk-administrator Wayne Wood, however, won't be satisfied until they can get hold of a siren and a set of cutters, known as the "jaws of life" to free people trapped in vehicles.

He points out that in addition to the heavy influx of tourists and cottagers during the summer, about 70 or 80 buses pass through Haliburton each day.

"We're proud of the rescue bus and the volunteers who are a dedicated lot," says Wood. Since we also have a first response team established this year at Wilberforce and another at Stanhope, we'll have pretty good coverage from "Code 4."

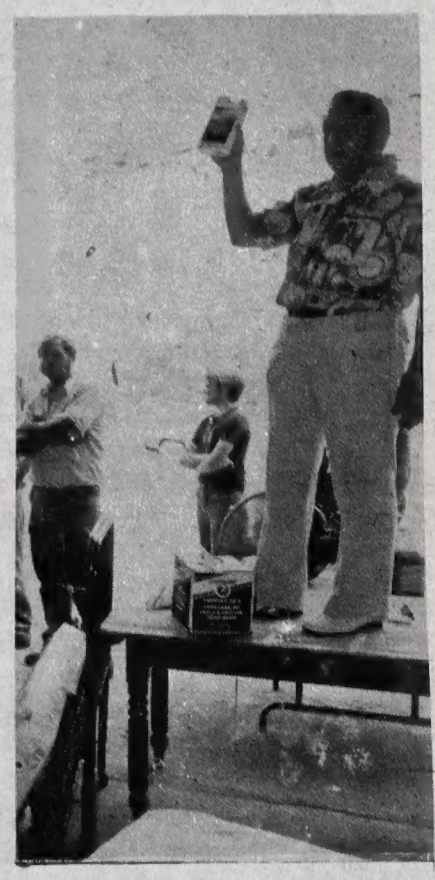
Galway-Cavandish Summer Festival 79



GALWAY — On Friday and Satruday of this past weekend, Galway-Cavandish Townships held their first annual "summer festival." Hundreds took part in the various activities that were available. On Friday evening there was the crowning of Miss Galway-Cavandish, 20 year old Ruth Gillham of Toronto. This was followed by a dance in the comunity centre.

Saturday started off with a giant auction, featuring guest auctioneer, MP Bill Scott (lower photo) plus box lunch sales, bake sales (top photo) and one of the highlights of the day, a soap box derby. Two of the young dragsters who built and entered soap boxes were David Preston 9, driving "hot shot" and David Anstey 11, on the right, driving the "Kinmount Killer." Both boys are students at Kinmount Public School.

A 6 pm many people enjoyed a delicious dinner and as always, the beer garden was a very popular part of the festival. Some of the other activities enjoyed by all included the helicopter rides, ponies, a white elephant sale and a midway plus many lucky prizes and draws were won.
